Take A Look

Do you remember the time you:

- went to your first frat party?
- flunked a major test?
- slept through class?
- ran through the sprinklers at 2 am?
- dodged security carts?
- played frisbee in the bowl?
- finally discovered the library?
- cut through the smoke at Hal & Mal's?
- signed a petition to save a favorite prof?
- played pinball in the grill?

- sat in dull committee meetings?
- bagged trash for Midtown?
- lived through cafeteria food and grill grease?
- stayed up all night typing a paper?

We've all shared these or at least similar experiences.

Take a look at a year in the life of Millsaps College.

See if you can remember all those good and bad times from 1992?

Features

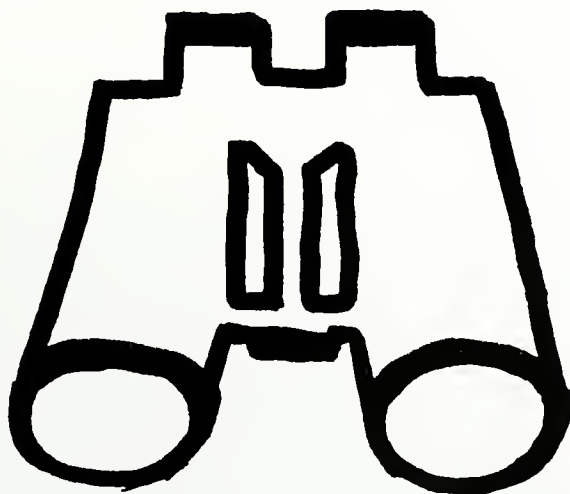

Let's see: Millsaps Forum, Major Madness, Homecoming, plays, Thursday night parties, Awards day, Student Symposium, Talent Show . . .

No one can possibly do it all. But it's all here.

The campus offers so many different programs that entertain and educate students, faculty, parents, and other visitors to Millsaps. Some events feature our personal best, while others utilize the community around us as well as nationwide contributors to the campus.

Look carefully and as you turn the pages, try to remember which events and activities you hurried to be a part of and which ones you just may have avoided at all costs!

Homecoming

Homecoming '91 was the weekend of November 2. With the usual football game, activities fair, carnival events, and crowning of the queen.

The game this year was a successful feat against University of the South with a final score of 20-6 in favor of the Majors.

The queen, Heather Patterson, and her court were presented at halftime with the usual ceremony.

Alumni from near and far crowded the campus to check out their old professors, bear the killer heat at the game and enjoy good food and fun for their entire families at the annual bowl carnival. The little carnival included face painting for the young and old, games and booths, souvenir stands with t-shirts, mugs, and other Millsaps memorabilia, and hamburgers and hot dogs for all.

Campus News

Change was a key element of the campus and campus life this year.

The completion of the renovations to Sullivan-Harrell Hall gave many students a different atmosphere for classes and study breaks. The building was finished and formally rededicated with a special ceremony that included speeches by President Harmon and those who helped to fund the renovation process.

Also a new look was added to the Acy's Place — the campus grill — with the installation of pinball machines and video games. Students now have another way to make study breaks more relaxing and pass the time during lunch and dinner hours. Game machines were also added in the lobbies of many of the residence halls. The grill introduced a second change or addition. The popular beverage Clearly Canadian, a sparkling mineral water drink, spiced up the grill menu.

The campuswide computer system was upgraded over the Christmas holidays, making it more compatible with systems on other campuses.

Crime on campus seemed to be on the uprise this year. Incidents of assault and theft were reported on numerous occasions, as well as the tragic rape of one student.

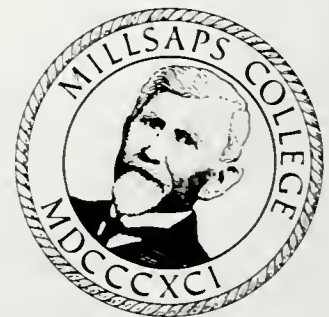

The student body also got involved in the politics of the election year. Presidential candidate Paul Tsongas was represented on campus along with Governor Bill Clinton. Former Mississippi Governor William Winters spoke on campus as a member of Clinton's campaign.

Forums & Lectures

The 1991-1992 Millsaps Arts and Lecture Series presents "Voices from the Delta: Highway 61 Blues," Thursday, April 9 at 7:30 P.M. at Hal & Mal's. An evening of song, spoken work and photographic images, the presentation will be a multimedia look at Mississippi's most notable contribution to Americana.

A panel consisting of Worth Long, blues historian; David Evans, blues scientist; Johnny Shines, blues musician; and Sam Myers, blues musician performing with the later band will answer questions and discuss, followed by a slide show presented by Jane Rule Burdine and Johnny Shines. Afterwards, Anson Rockets, one of the top blues bands in the state, will deliver a blend of Texas blues, Mississippi blues, and "Portraits of Character and Culture: Richard Henry Beadle—Pioneer Photographer" will be the topic of the Millsaps Forum at 12:45 p.m. on Friday, March 27. Dr. Robert Smith, a physician and local historian, will discuss this noted African-American photographer. Beadle began his career at the turn of the century and was the only black photographer in Mississippi for more than a half century. The program will be held in AC 215.

On Friday, April 3, the Forum will feature Augusta Thomas, Junior Fellow from Harvard University, who will address the artist's function in today's music.

"Millsaps Players: A Retrospective" will be the topic of a program presented at Millsaps Forum, Friday, April 3, at 12:45 p.m. in the Millsaps College Academic Complex, room 215. Jennifer Ogden, a former Millsaps Player, will discuss the role of the Players in the life of the College. She will also give a broader view of how being a part of this organization has influenced her life. Ogden, as Vice President of Feature Production at Twentieth Century Fox, oversees physical production for the studio. She has worked on several motion pictures, including Prelude to a Kiss, What about Bob?, and The Manhattan Project.

Student Wellness Fair

The Millsaps Health and Wellness Fair was held in March.

Several organizations set up booths outside and inside the student center. Booths included the Kappa Alpha donation and information booth to benefit Muscular Dystrophy, the Lambda Chi Alpha booth for March of Dimes, a Kappa Sigma condom dart board (with a healthful tip inside each condom balloon for those lucky enough to make their target), and tasty, but nutritious wellness cookies from Student Affairs and the Black Student Association. Chi Omega sponsored a blood drive with United Blood Services of Jackson. Other booths were from Gold's Gym, the Rainbow Co-op, St. Dominicks', and Jane Stanton — "The Sex Lady".

The purpose of the fair was to promote the concept of mental and physical wellness among college students.

We paint.
We sew.
We fight.
We cry.
We sing.
We kiss passionately in public.
We work.
And we work.
We bow and our eyes glow with pride.

We are the Millsaps Players.

The Players' 68th season opened with Heaven Can Wait, a lively comedy about life, death, and love. Doug Mitchell played a boxer whose soul takes over the body of a sleazy businessman, to the chagrin of the murderous wife (Wendy Henderson) and the delight of lovely young Bette Logan (Amy Lewis). David Coates gave a sparkling performance as Max Levene, the boxer's manager.

Neil Simon's Barefoot in the Park tells the touching and joyful story of young and mature relationships. Katherine D'Armond and David Marrow, Shannon O'Shields and Andrew McWhorter, illustrated the flowering of two very different, but strangely similar relationships.

The Players opened second semester with The Heiress, a grim tragedy of disillusionment and misunderstanding based on Henry James' Washington Square. Martha Barron Bishop starred as a rich but awkward young woman caught between the heavy hand of her father (Doug Mitchell) and the dubious promises of a handsome young suitor (Vere Jehl).

The season closed with a celebration of the Players' many year anniversary. The Infernal Machine, a modern version of the Oedipus saga, was produced for the Players' reunion celebration. Vere Jehl starred as the tormented hero, Oedipus.

Sports

The glory of victory, the agony of defeat!
It's not who wins that counts but how you play the game.

Okay, enough cliches!

The bottom line:

Some teams had good seasons; others didn't. But every athlete worked long hard hours in preparation and play. They obviously enjoy the sport to continue year after year or to join a team upon entering college. Sports is an integral part of campus life. It gives us something and someone to root for between the humdrum of classes and the other activities on campus. There are the serious jocks and some others who just want to show off a little in intramurals.

Our hats go off to all Majors and the time and sweat they devote to teamwork!

Organizations

Plans go into action to take our minds off studying and 8 am classes.

Administration checks the budget.

SBA spreads it around.

Each organization starts working:

“Let’s have a party.”

“No, we should have a fundraiser.”

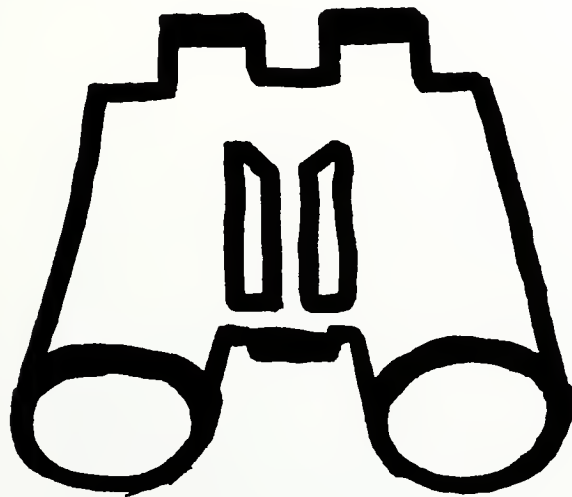

“I say we donate to charity.”

“No way. We should . . .

The discussions rage on. The possible results?

Campus Ministry Team

Campus Ministry Team is an ecumenical organization which brings together students, faculty, and administration in Christian fellowship. This year CMT sponsored Friday forums and workshops. CMT also sponsored an ice cream social and brought numerous performers and speakers to the campus including Eddie Spencer. The task groups that comprise CMT have organized activities such as Fun and Fellowship, rallies for environmental causes, and Un-Food drive, and chapel services every Thursday. The Midtown project was also continued this year and a special food and unfood drive was held for the people of the new Soviet republics.

Circle K International Service Organization encourages members to serve the community altruistically. It promotes good will, friendship, and leadership. This year we worked hard with the Big Brother/Big Sister "Duck Race" with the Ronald McDonald House, and with the Salvation Army and our sponsor club, the Capitol City Kiwanis Club. This year Millsaps was proud of its chapter; Leslie Boykins and Angela Vignery received 2 of 4 district scholarships, and Lisa Wright was inducted into the Society of Distinguished Collegians. From District Convention in Baton Rouge to the Kiwanis Pancake Day, and from the SuperCities Walk to singing Christmas songs in April, we have fun in all we do.

Habitat for Humanity

Habitat for Humanity is an ecumenical Christian housing organization that works with people in need to improve the conditions in which they are forced to live. "Building in Partnership" is the central theme by which Habitat for Humanity operates.

Joining Hearts and Hands

For he cannot love God, whom he has not seen, if he does not love his brother, whom he has seen.

1 John 4:20

Committed to the elimination of poverty housing worldwide, Habitat for Humanity projects build houses, families, and communities around the world as a witness to God's love and care.

Interfraternity Council

Representing 70 percent of the male population, the Interfraternity Council recognizes the potentials of a unified Greek community. The purpose of the Millsaps Greek system is to build responsible leaders who will make strides toward a more unified campus overall. Future plans include a Junior IFC and a Greek newsletter.

Omicron Delta Kappa

Omicron Delta Kappa, the National Leadership Honor Society, was founded in 1914 at Washington and Lee University. The founders formulated the idea that leadership of exceptional quality and versatility in college should be recognized and that outstanding students, faculty and administration should meet on a basis of mutual interest, understanding and helpfulness.

Panhellenic

Panhellenic Council is the governing body of the four sororities on campus and consists of representatives from these four national groups: Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Delta, and Phi Mu. The Panhellenic Council promotes unity and strives to strengthen friendly relations among the sororities.

Student Body Association

The Student Body Association includes all students who pay the student body association fee. As a student body we intend to enrich the campus by providing inclusive social and educational function. In order to achieve this purpose we have established a representative framework with student senators, representative organizations, and committee participation. Officers include: President Mike Fuquay, 1st Vice President Alan Lange, 2nd Vice President Lisa Garvin, Treasurer Janell Jeter, and Secretary Amy Reid.

Order of Omega

Order of Omega is a national organization that honors outstanding members of the Greek system. Membership is based on involvement with the campus, community, and Greek affairs. Only thirty percent of the Greek population may be selected each year. The Millsaps chapter received its charter in 1986 and grows sturdily with approximately twenty-five new members each year.

Spanish Club

The purpose of the Spanish Club is to increase student awareness of Hispanic culture. This past year we enjoyed interesting programs on life in Ecuador and Argentina, a fabulous Christmas party at which members spoke on Christmas customs in various countries, and a "pot-luck" dinner where a variety of Hispanic food was served.

ALL THE NEWS THAT'S NEWS!

Bobashela

The Bobashela, "a good friend", has been highlighting the Millsaps community for decades. The staff is made up of volunteers who give many long hours throughout the year to the production of the book. The yearbook is a chronicle of memories which will be cherished for years to come.

YEARBOOKS ARE USED AND PICTURES TOO!

Wind Ensemble

The Wind Ensemble was created for those students who enjoy playing in a small ensemble atmosphere. It is for those who would like to continue their band experience from high school. The ensemble performed a spring concert this year. The ensemble can be taken for an hour's fine arts credit, or it can be audited.

Greeks & Greeks

ΑΛΠΗΑ, ΟΜΕΓΑ, ΜΥ, ΔΕΛΤΑ, ΛΑΜΒΔΑ . . .

Do any of those Greek alphabets actually spell anything?

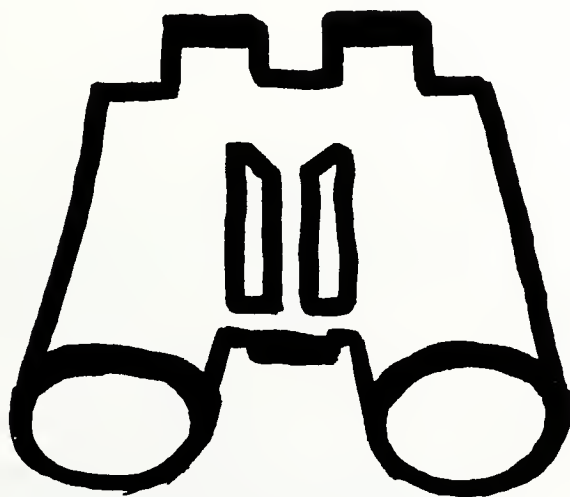

At Millsaps, they spell sisterhood, brotherhood, fun and friendship.

The Greek system is a central and influential part of campus life. From initiations, formals, fundraisers and meetings, Greek life shapes the format of many activities for many students. Many annual functions are hosted by fraternities or sororities, like our Major Madness step show, street party and bingo night. It is a way of fitting in and adjusting to the college environment (if that's your thing), a way to build friendships and connections that can last a lifetime, and a way of increasing your collection of t-shirts since there are shirts printed for every event conceivable in one year!

Who are these Greek guys and gals?

Let's see . . .

Graduation

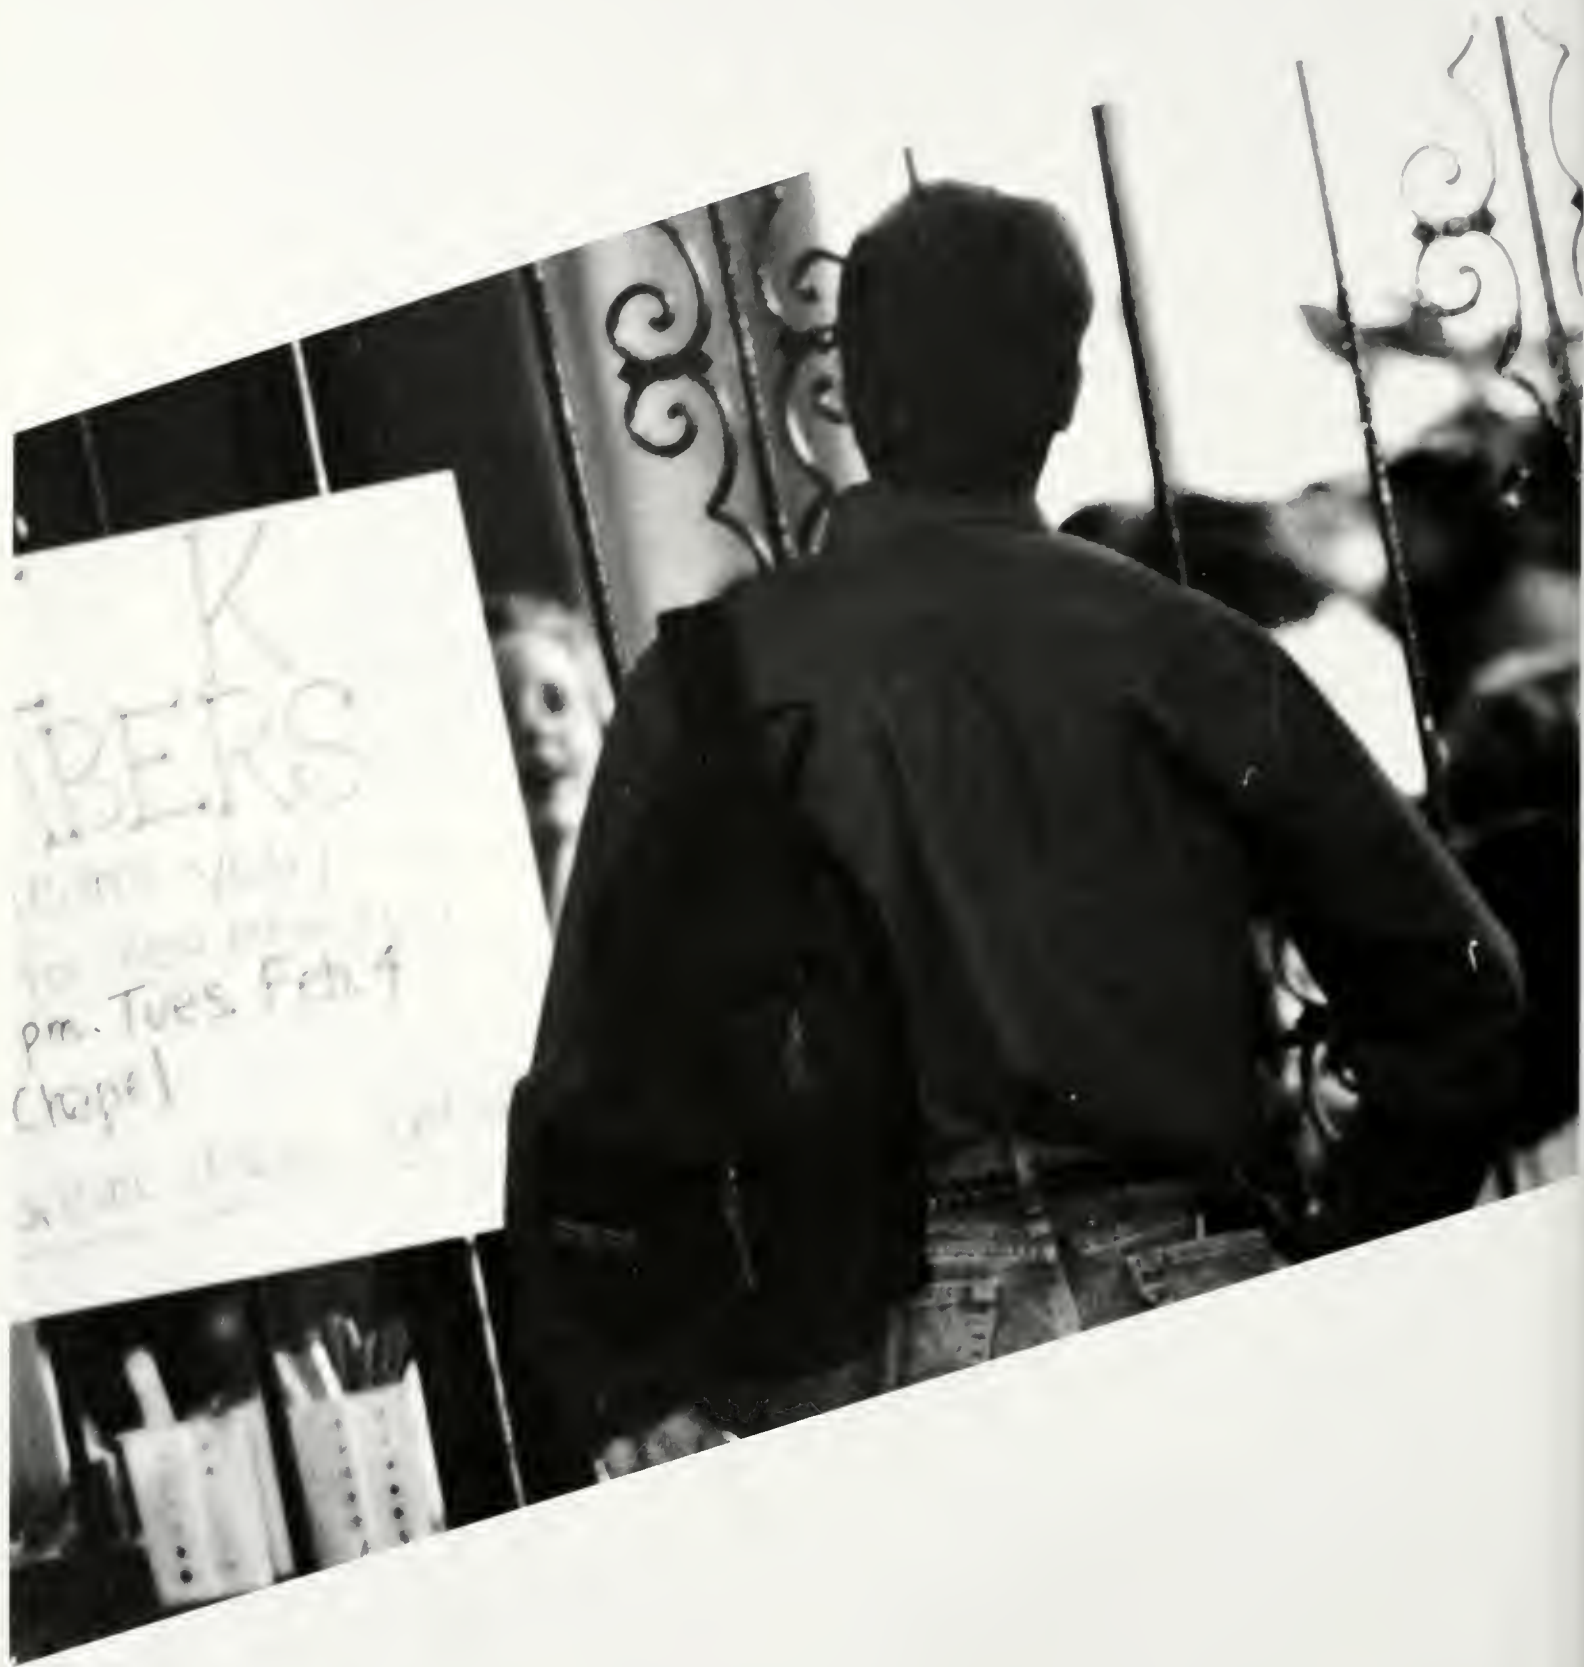

Graduation In the News!

Timothy Craig Howard of Jackson waits to sit at Saturday's Millsaps College graduation. A Cal-laway High graduate, Howard is the first black student inducted into Millsaps' Phi Beta Kappa chapter. The biology major has a 3.9 grade-point average.

Boston University President John Silber, the commencement speaker, told graduates to use what they learned in college and their integrity and religious beliefs as a "shield against decadence."

Another Millsaps graduate, economics major Rebecca Hawes, 21, said she plans to go to law school in the Northeast after returning from a two-month backpacking tour of Europe.

That's All

Well, if you don't remember anything by now, you've been asleep for the last year.

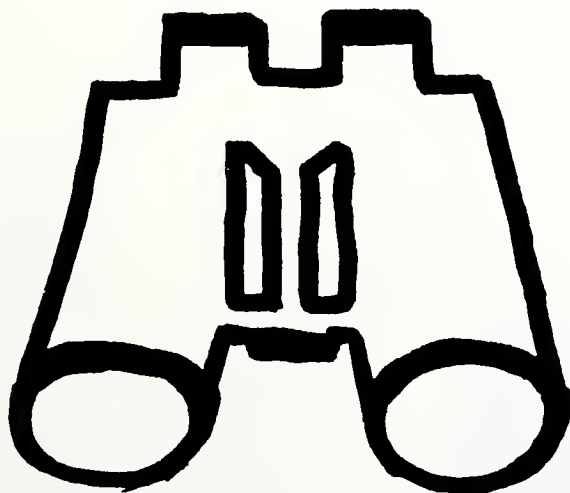

So what do you think? Any ideas about your role in 1992? What did you see? Did you gain a new outlook on any old or new issues? What does it all mean? What's the meaning of life? (Oops, we'll save that question for a later installment!)

Only time can tell what 1992 really accomplished and how it will affect the future.

A year chronicled in only 200 pages — it sounds so simple: a few photos here, a scoreboard there, and an article or two on that page.

But imagine all that was left out; some trivial blurb or some consequential fact that only you will recall years and years from now.

Remember this look at 1992 but always keep your binoculars focused on the future.

Mission Accomplished

Well, the school year and this yearbook are finally complete. I have enjoyed working on the book this year. Hard work (fall, spring and summer), headaches, chewed fingernails, and a little panic would best describe my experiences with producing the Bobashela this year. Shortage of staff members and shortage of time would be other ideal descriptions. But I would like to thank Jennifer Howell, Tara Collins, and Jennifer McCormick for their work on layouts, photos, and copy respectively. I have to thank Bill Morris, the darkroom editor and photographer, for his help with photos during the spring and summer. Also a "thank you" goes out to the Publications Board (especially Dr. Brister and Dean Sneed) for their patience, understanding, and support. I can truly say this yearbook is "my baby" since most of the copy and layouts were my creation. So I hope you enjoy and treasure this collection of thoughts and visions of 1991-1992. (If you don't, please keep it to yourself; I will be offended.)
